God Morning Erica,

I'll forward this to the FOIL inbox as this should be handled via that process, and we'll probably advise that we don't share these details publicly.

Hello-

Given the recent attacks to various municipal water supply systems across the US, have we:

- 1) a current inventory of every internet-connected control device,
- 2) the date of the last independent assessment,
- 3) proof that default passwords are gone, and
- 4) a tested plan for manual operation?

Thank you for your response to this vital area.

Regards, Roger Brath, 42 Heathwood Rd.
